

Music Listening Project - Orchestra

Part 1: Music Listening

Over the next month your assignment is to listen to a variety of music. Listening to music has many benefits to you not only as a musician yourself, but as a human being. The goal of this project is to listen to one song each day from a different artist or composer. In each box simply write down what song you listened to. If the option is blank, then you choose. Please list the title and the artist or composer (notated as A/C). You can choose absolutely anything. On some of the days I have already given you a composer or artist to look up on YouTube or other streaming service. Make sure to complete the reflection at the end!
